RAY MARTIN
NORFOLK ISLAND AMBASSADOR

“Visiting Norfolk Island may mean turning back the clock to a quieter and more relaxed era, but don't let anyone tell you that this lovely place is strictly for retirees or your grandparents”

Don't be fooled by Norfolk's modest dimensions. This South Pacific paradise is an abundant land of stories, activity and character. Its remarkable history is unlike anywhere else on the planet; seafaring Polynesians, hardened criminals and pious Pitcairners have all left behind layers of intrigue. The islanders of today enjoy an intoxicating blend of modern life with a bygone era, surrounded by landscapes of utopian beauty. Impressive in its diversity, refreshing in its authenticity, visitors to Norfolk Island are delighted to discover a rare sub-tropical gem.

Norfolk Island shares a similar latitude and climate to Australia's most easterly towns, though its differing time zone reflects more than a change in longitude. Norfolk time moves to a unique cadence; a steady soothing rhythm that's neither fast nor slow, but is in sync with the natural order of life. It encourages reconnection to the things we know should be priorities, and surprisingly the gentler pace of life leaves more time for just about everything. With 360° of variety, and only a two and a half hour flight from Australia or ninety minutes from New Zealand – Norfolk Island is the quiet achiever of the South Pacific, often overlooked, though unforgettable once found. Discover for yourself why visitors return time and time again - there's just so much more to Norfolk Island.

THINGS TO DO

There's Something for everyone on Norfolk Island

There's something for everyone on Norfolk Island!
Information provided courtesy of Norfolk Island Tourism

FISHING - They don't bother with 'fishing'; rather, they call it 'catching'. The fish seem to leap towards your hook as you throw out a line. They also appear to be fattened for the dinner plate. What's more, you can reel in real delicacies: succulent Sweet Lip (we call them Trumpeter), Yellowfin Tuna, Wahoo and Great Southern Marlin - to name a few. Experienced fishing operators offer deep sea fishing charters or hire fishing gear and drop your own line!

GOLF - It is quite a golf course. It is only 9 holes (18-tee PGA rating) and isn't a long walk around. The main challenge is not being distracted by the views of Norfolk Island from our fairways. Not long ago they were voted as having one of the 'most spectacular holes in the South Pacific'.

SNORKELING - The coral reefs are remarkably beautiful. They're also remarkably little-known. You'll feel like a pioneering undersea explorer as you weave your way amongst the natural wonders. You'll be exposed to a myriad of stunning fish in the world's clearest waters. Or if you'd prefer staying completely dry - explore the Norfolk Island seascape from a glass-bottomed boat instead.

GARDENING - You know those tomatoes you buy, the ones that taste of...nothing at all? We simply don't have them. Theirs are like the ones your grandfather used to grow. Rich, firm, plump, natural. Like all our produce. For this they thank a pristine environment, and the skills of the people on the land. Learn from and be inspired by those on the vanguard of permaculture.

BUSHWALKING - It is a fact that nearly one third of Norfolk Island is comprised of reserves and parks. You can enjoy a variety of well-signposted walks. You'll see plants and birds you've never seen before. You'll be awed by spectacular panoramas, refreshed by the bracing sea air. It's truly a tonic for the soul. Walks vary in degree of difficulty, taking from 20 to 90 minutes.

BIRDWATCHING - Birds are one of the many unique attractions. Before European settlement, Norfolk Island resembled one big bird sanctuary. Today each Spring, we welcome migratory terns, frigate birds, mutton birds, shearwaters and boobies. Year round, you'll encounter red breasted robin, green parrot and teal blue kingfisher (the nuffka). Your eyes and ears will be delighted by many others too.

MUSEUMS - The incredible museums are housed in buildings constructed by the convicts. They form undoubtedly the finest collection of restored Georgian architecture in the southern hemisphere. You'll marvel at artifacts from HMS Sirius (flagship of the First Fleet, wrecked on our reef), which tell the story of the various Norfolk Island settlements. There's also a fascinating house museum, restored to how it was in 1844.

FOOD & DINING - The choice and quality of food in our world may surprise you; from modest cafes to upscale restaurants. The chefs know how to make the most of seasonal local produce, grown in rich volcanic soils. Join us for a 'progressive dinner'; you'll enjoy the hospitality of three Norfolk Island families. Or perhaps a cliff-top fish dinner is more your style. Put your taste buds on standby.

SHOPPING - Whether you're seeking perfume or European products, fashion and frippery- prepare to max out those credit cards. Low business costs make goods very affordable. Which all adds up to a fantastic shopping experience. And it's all easily accessible at the centrally located Burnt Pine shopping area.

Built in the 1970s by Sarah's grandfather, Ken Prentice, The Castaway, as it then was, had a long and illustrious life as one of Norfolk's cherished accommodation houses. Sarah has taken on the rejuvenation of this Norfolk icon as a personal challenge and Castaway Norfolk Island has flourished under her energetic approach.

Situated in the heart of Burnt Pine, Norfolk's shopping, café and commercial hub, Castaway Norfolk Island is the most centrally located guest accommodation on the Island. But don't expect hustle and bustle! Our restaurant has panoramic mountain views, while our well-appointed rooms overlook our enormous banyan tree or neighbouring Phillip Island. Staying at Castaway Norfolk Island, you are at the heart of everything, but enjoy the peace and quiet of a secret hideaway.

Castaway Norfolk Island offers twenty freshly renovated rooms and apartments in a beautifully landscaped garden. In addition, you can enjoy the amenities of the stylish restaurant and bar, with French windows overlooking Mt Pitt and Mt Bates and the massive fire place promising cosy warmth in the cooler months.

Our one bedroom self-contained apartments have been refurbished in a stylish modern design. Each room overlooks beautifully landscaped gardens and our famous Banyan tree. The Apartments are sparkling new throughout, including private patios with casual outdoor settings – perfect for total relaxation. Or, depending on your travel needs, the apartments have interconnecting doors and are easily converted to two bedrooms!

Unwind at the bar, on the deck or the patio of your room. Take a quick stroll to the shops, or take in one of the many tours or attractions on offer. You will have a wealth of choices at Castaway Norfolk Island.
